

HEALTH, SAFETY, ENVIRONMENTAL AND QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

BMT Cordah Limited

Development and Implementation

BMT Cordah is a UK- based environmental consultancy with an impressive track record of developing and implementing environmental management systems (EMS), and latterly Health Safety and Quality (HS&Q), systems for a wide range of customers across a variety of industry sectors. Our clients include major oil and gas exploration and production companies, waste management companies, manufacturing industries, transport groups and the food industry. Our aim is to tailor our service to individual requirements, utilising existing management arrangements, and adapting and applying management system (MSs) features to a company's individual needs. We work with clients to develop MS's to the ISO9001-2000, OHSAS18001 (Health & Safety) and the ISO14001 or EMAS standards, or alternatively to meet individual specifications. We can develop fully integrated systems if required, or develop stand-alone systems to suit client needs and budgets.

BMT Cordah offers a complete MS service providing support from initial commitment to certification of a system, or a partial service covering just the components a company requires, for example:

- Gap analysis
- Regulatory compliance assessment
- Baseline quality critical, risk, or aspects review
- Development of documentation and procedures
- Staff training and awareness
- Development of action programmes
- HSEQ MS auditing
- Pre-certification auditing.

Our working arrangements with our clients vary from part or full-time secondment to input to specialist projects and provision of ad-hoc advice.

Where the management of significant issues requires the committed involvement of suppliers, we can provide appropriate seminars and workshops to help your suppliers understand and integrate with the requirements of your MSs.

Audit of an Offshore Production Facility

We can also provide assistance with:

- Safety culture assessment
- Specialist audits, supplier performance audits
- Due diligence audits / vendor audits
- Legislative compliance and waste audits

- Customer satisfaction assessment

Support and Maintenance

For clients who have already implemented an MS, BMT Cordah can offer a variety of support to local management to assist in the maintenance of an MS without diluting the organisation's own responsibility for its operation. In particular companies certified to ISO9001, ISO14001 or EMAS and OHSAS18001 may wish to out-source routine maintenance of the system to ensure its continued effectiveness and ability to bring about continuous improvement. Examples of where BMT Cordah can provide specific support include:

- Help with the selection of appropriate and challenging objectives and targets for improvements that will benefit the organisation and its stakeholders, both at site and corporate level
- Provision of a legislation updating service tailored to the needs of a specific company or sector to ensure that organisations and responsible personnel are fully aware of their legal obligations
